Letter from the Honorary Secretary, Arya Dharma Bodhini Sabha,Bangalore; Regd: No.934 .

Date of receipt, 14th June 1902

The foregoing communication contains the Resolutions of a committee of gentlemen in Bangalore(with Mr.P.N.Purnaiyya as President) convened for the purpose of placing on a sound basis the system of lectures in Kanarese on Hindu Philosophy and Religion which are being delivered at the Sanskrit College,Bangalore

The Resolutions speak for themselves. It has been provided in the Rules that for each lecture ,the deliverer thereof shall be given a douceur of Rs.5, and that at the close of each year, prizes shall be awarded for the best 3 lectures at Rs.60, 40,& 25 respectively.

The Committee have received promises of donations to the extent of Rs. 1360/- and ~~x~~expect to collect a further sum of Rs. 1500 or so, making a total of Rs.3000. This sum they intend placing in the Savings Bank which will give interest to the extent of Rs. 100.per ~~annum~~ annum. Their expenditure on the other hand will be,

Rs. 100 for Dakshina for 20 lectures at Rs. 5 each.

Rs. 125 for prizes.

Rs. 25 for contigencies.

Total 250.

They may want something more for printing notices &c, but such charges they must defray from monthly subscriptions which they must collect.

As the movement is one which deserves every encouragement, I respectfully beg to recommend that a grant of Rs. 150 per annum be given to the Sabha. As to the source from which this this grant is to be met, I beg to invite attention to the corresponaence submitted to the Dewan some time back regarding the contribution of Rs. 300 per annum made to the "Brahmavadin" journal of Madras. The term of 3 years for which that contribution was promised having come to an end, I proposed that in future the large contribution of Rs.300 be stopped, and that 6 copies of the Journal be subscribed for at a cost of 30 Rs. per annum. Out of the balance ofRs. 270, a sum of Rs. 150/- may be granted to the Lecture Sabha. As the movement has the full sympathy of the Dewan, it is hoped that the grant recommended will be sanctioned.

The balance of Rs. 120 left out of the Brahmavadin grant may, it is submitted be given for scholarships to the students of the Bangalore Sanskrit College. The amount now allotted for scholarships to the students in that institution is very small and it is found difficult to keep students in that institution without any scholarships. The Mysore Sanskrit College enjoys the large amount of Rs 400 for scholarships. The small addition of Rs 120 per annum or Rs. 10 per mensem recommended above, will go some way towards helping the Bangalore Sanskrit College.

First Rs 55 per mensem.

Rs 400/- per mensem.

Submitted to the Director

In this connection, I deem it my duty to respectfully submit a few facts within my knowledge derived from my experience of the Education dept. Our Bhasha had to close numerous Sanskrit schools for want of a sufficient number of pupils and attach the masters to the Govt AV schools in order not to deprive them of their living. The paucity of Sanskrit pupils is due, not to lack of encouragement in the shape of scholarships on a liberal scale, but to more radical causes. The chances of not being able to earn a living by English learning is problematical and at present, at any rate, extremely remote, while Sanskrit learning has come to be almost associated with positive beggary. Hence students flight by of the latter and flock to the English schools. It is well known that in Mysore and Bangalore, a large majority of the boys attend both the English and Sanskrit schools, ~~at once~~ as they are held during different hours, but merely playing as it were, with the latter. A large majority of the students, with any the least claim to ability, attempt in the beginning to try their luck in the English schools, and is only when they feel that they cannot make headway there, they begin to cast lower and lower glances at purely Sanskrit study, mainly attracted by the scholarships which are held out to them. Such men cannot but prove disappointments in the end, as the results before our eyes have amply confirmed, nor can they be trusted to keep up the traditions of Sanskrit learning unTarnished. I think it is better that we swerve a little from the old path and proceed on somewhat new lines, and we may also recognize that Sanskrit learning cannot secure a decent or as the world judges, even a dignified living also. It is a sorry sight to see a learned pandit hanging at the doors of more fortunate men and scrambling with lesser folk to obtain admission to the great man's presence, merely for the sake of begging a living. The pursuit of Sanskrit study for its own sake is becoming a thing of the past, if it has not already become. If the object is to keep on the torch of Sanskrit learning burning, however dimly it may be, till brighter days dawn, the present number of scholarships as well suffice for the purpose. If the object is to revive the old Sanskrit scholarship, nothing can fail to secure the wished for result as increased scholarships to persons who merely seek them to eke out an existence on the pretence of studying Sanskrit. Encouragement further to such persons or what I may call [illegible]

SLS—

Courses of Study will I am afraid, be barren of good results. There seems to be a glimmer of hope in encouraging what may be called post-graduate Courses of Study, and in the System of lectures
now organized and which
as far as I can see, seems to be capable of very large development. I see an attempt towards en-
-couraging such post-
-graduate courses.
The Pandits who come forward to lecture, are forced to brush up what they already know, increase their stock of knowledge
by ~~study~~ further study,
however small it may be,
out of emulation with others, and in facing a public audience they are also put on their mettle. I think money
given for such a purpose ~~would~~ will be more beneficially used
than any inducement
to swell mere numbers

Can ever do. We shall no doubt have as many men as the individual Scholarships formed
out of an allotted amount are able to fetch, but as regards the worth of such men, I leave
it to be gauged by the results. I would far rather have 6 or 7 Scholarships of Rs 15 each
and offer them to Sanskrit
- Knowing Graduates
of ability for a certain number of years on condition of their under-
-going higher courses
of Sanskrit learning.

Yours
E. T. [illegible]

To,

The Deputy Secretary to the Govt. of Mysore, Muzrai Department.

Sir,

In inviting your attention to my letter no. 5 dated 28th May 1902, applying for a suitable grant-in-aid from Government for the maintenance of the Sabha, I beg to state that the business of the Sabha is being carried on in accordance with the Rules specially framed for the purpose and lectures are being delivered on Hindu Philosophy and Religion. These lectures are largely attended and well appreciated by the public.

2. Under the Rules of the Sabha, the subscriptions collected have to be invested in the Savings Bank [illegible]

the interest realized thereon should be utilized for the purposes of the Sabha. It is now too early to count upon interest money, and consequently, some difficulty is being felt in meeting current expenditure. I therefore request that you will be so kind as to obtain the early sanction of Government to the grant applied for, which will certainly be of great help to the Sabha at this, its initial, stage.

Messers C. Rama Rao and N. Sreenivasa Rao taking part also as Hon: Secretary and Hon: Asst. Secy.

III—Rules of the Sabha:—

At the meetings held on the 25th May and 25th August, 1902, rules were framed for the conduct of the business of the Sabha, among which those relating to Lectures are:—

(i) That a series of written lectures not exceeding 20 in a year, be allowed to be delivered in Kannada, on subjects approved by the Executive Committee, and Tumbula with a Dakshina of Rs. 5, presented to each lecturer for the lecture delivered.

(ii) That the time and the place of the lecture be fixed and notified from time to time by the Executive Committee

(iii) That any gentleman proposing to deliver a lecture should give intimation of his intention to do so to the Hon. Secretary or the Hon. Asst. Secy. of the Sabha, at least a week before the day of the lecture, specifying the subject, and at the same time sending a copy or an abstract of the lecture.

(iv) That the lecture should be confined to topics on " Hindu Philosophy and Religion; " that it should be free from expressions tending to wound the feelings of any community; and that it should be of about one hour's duration.

(v) That only such lectures as are approved by the Executive Committee, be delivered.

(vi) That of the lectures delivered during the course of a year, the best 3 be selected by the Executive Committe, for which special rewards with certificates signed by the President of the Sabha, be given as follows:-

For the first lecture on merits			Rs. 60
,,	second	,,	,, 40
,,	third	,,	,, 25
		Total	Rs 125

(vii) That no person be allowed to take more than one special reward in the same year.

& (viii) That the Executive Committee might arrange for the delivery of special lectures upon subjects coming within the scope of the Sabha.

IV. Lectures delivered:—

In all 28 lectures were delivered during the intervals noted below :—

Since the introduction of the lecture system in Sept. 1901, and before the regular formation of the Sabha in February 1902, 11 lectures. From February to July 1902, when the Govt of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore in the Muzrai Department were pleased to sanction a grant-in-aid of Rupees 225 a year, 3 lectures. From the 1st July 1902 up to the end of June 1903, 14 lectures. A list shewing the subjects on which the lectures were delivered and the names of the lecturers is hereto appended.

V—Dakshine & Tambula presented:—

The Government grant of Rs. 225 a year having been sanctioned with effect from the 1st July 1902, the Rules of the Sabha were enforced regularly from that date. Of the 14 lectures delivered in 1902-03 the lecturers in 5 cases did not accept the Dakshine offered by the Sabha, which they waived in favour of it.

VI- Income and Expenditure of the Sabha:—

In addition to the Government grant, which is allowed to be drawn in instalments of Rs. 18—12—0 a month, donations to the extent of Rs. 1460 as particularized in the accompanying list, were promised, of which Rs. 557 have been already collected up to the end of June 1903. The total Receipts and Expenditure of the Sabha during the year 1902—3 were as follows:—

RECEIPTS.

Grant-in-aid from the Govt. Muzrai Department from the 1st July 1902 up to the end of May 1903	206—4—0
Donations collected up to the end of June 1903	557—0—0
Total Rs.	763—4—0

EXPENDITURE.

(i) Dakshine given to lecturers ...	45—0—0
(ii) Contingencies:—For printing Notices & Receipt Books, purchase of envelopes and Postage labels	38—7—0
Total Rs.	83—7—0

The net receipts carried forward were thus Rs. 679-13-0, which amount is invested in the Govt. Savings Bank in the name of the Hon. Secretary. Including the small interest of 10 pies entered in the Savings Bank

Pass Book by the Treasury authorities, the amount available at the credit of the Sabha on the 30th June 1903 was Rs. 679—13—10.

VII—Concluding Remarks.

8. The Members of the Sabha feel thankful to the several gentlemen that presided at the meetings when the lectures were delivered.

Bangalore,
